Above The Average

A SERMONETTE

BY THE REV. RALPH W. PATOW

Pastor, Prospect Street M. E. Church

PHILLIPS' BROTHERS once delivered a sermon on Christ's words to the young ruler as they are recorded in the thirteenth chapter of St. Matthew's gospel. "Jesus said unto him, if thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me." The theme was perfection. The great preacher told that Jesus had answered the young man's question in an ordinary way and would have let him go. But this young man had great aspirations. He wanted to be better than the average. So Jesus turned to him and says: "If thou wilt be perfect—that is an other matter altogether," and makes out the way. It is like some great strong man who sets out to climb a lofty eminence with a group of eager boys. They ascend to the first good view, and meet of them are satisfied. But in the eyes of one or two he sees the gleaming of a nobler light, and they exclaim, "We must go higher; lead us onward, take us to you even-white summit amid the clouds!" And the leader says: "Very well. If that is what you mean you must throw off your burdens and leave behind all earthly baggage and come and follow me."

Christ's whole life was a summons to manhood and womanhood to climb upward to perfection. This upward climbing brings us face to face with God. The reason some people do not believe in God is not because they are so broad and liberal and great, but because their lives are so little, so narrow and earthly, that they seem to have no need of God. And apart from God as he is revealed in Christ man never does, and never can attain his possible best.

Eastern Stars of Gridiron Will Make First Real Bid For All-American Team

BY J. L. CONLIN
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Such eastern gridiron stars as Gary, Charlesworth and Hooper of Yale, Eagle, Sprague and Murrell of the Army; Marston of Dartmouth; French of Harvard; Paul Seall of Penn.; and the players of Stevens will be taking their bids for All-American honors this afternoon when their teams face each other in the first round.

Many of these stars already have turned in scintillating performances against minor opponents today, with Yale facing Brown, Army tackling Harvard, Dartmouth clashing with Columbia, Penn. battling against Penn. State and Syracuse playing Nebraska in the west, a real blow on their claims to All-American honors should be furnished. They will have to be good to shine against opposition of that caliber.

Army is a 10 to 7 favorite over Harvard and the same odds indicate a Dartmouth victory over Columbia. Two Yale dollars against one Brown greenback say that the Bulldogs will take a shabby chunk out of the Bears' bike.

"AD" TOPPERWEIN LIVES UP TO DOPE AS FANCY RIFLEMAN

Charles Bogart, Sandusky, High Man in 100 Target Match

ONE of the greatest exhibitions of marksmanship with shot gun, rifle and pistol was given yesterday afternoon at the range of the Marion County Gun Club when Ad Topperwein demonstrated how it was done.

More than 500 persons, it was estimated, saw the exhibition. Topperwein was brought here through the "Toll" and Mount Brothers and the Wheeler Arms Co.

The exhibition followed a 100 target match sponsored by the Marion County Gun Club. Charles A. Bogart, Sandusky, held high score in this event, breaking 97 out of a possible 100 targets. L. S. Russell, Carrollton, was second high with 80.

Twenty-eight years of fancy shooting has made Topperwein one of the outstanding shots of the country. Facts that would be a real test of the skill of most gunners were performed with ease by Topperwein.

From every position possible he broke nuths, balls, wooden blocks and, whose a flicker of an eyelid, extinguished cigarettes in the mouth of his helper. He showed his exhibition by drawing a cotton on a sheet of tin with bullet holes.

It all comes to a point, Topperwein said after the exhibition. Fancy shooting can be developed by any one with patience and practice, he stated.

GREAT CROWD AT ATLANTA FOR GAME

Notre Dame Invades Georgia Tech Today, Southern City is Filled

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—A larger crowd than ever before witnessed an inter-collegiate game in the south clustered on Atlanta streets and hotel lawns today as they waited for the annual clash of Notre Dame and Georgia Tech.

When the Irish gentlemen from the middle west marched into Georgia they found a solid south, a south wherein all inter-collegiate rivalries were forgotten in the overwhelming and unanimous desire to repulse the invaders and obtain a measure of revenge for six straight defeats at their hands. From all over the state came here, the football fans of this south that in recent years has become so skin proud. Hither masses of Tech in conference attire, many of them, yet today they were all southerners and, consequently, "Tech men."

This widespread support, together with the Wisconsin disaster and the recent win of the Buckeyes over Navy last week, has improved the stand in basketball circles of the golden-state Georgia and now the betting, instead of being twelve to one as it was a few weeks ago, is "Tech and seven points."
